A NOAA Weather Radio should be as common in homes and public places as smoke detectors. When hazardous weather or other life-threatening situations are about to occur, the NOAA Weather Radio helps to alert you to impending hazards and provide lead time to take precautions, find shelter or reach safety. For more information go to www.srh.noaa.gov/jan .